START YOUR CAREER AT ATKINSON

A construction worker is shown inside a yellow metal bucket, which is part of a crane or lift system. The worker is wearing a white hard hat with a headlamp, safety glasses, a high-visibility yellow and orange vest over a blue shirt, and a safety harness. He is holding a walkie-talkie in his right hand and has his left hand on the bucket's edge. The bucket is positioned over a large, rectangular concrete structure, possibly a foundation or a large pipe. In the background, there are green trees and a clear sky. The overall scene is a construction site.

- Bridges
- Dams and Hydroelectric
- Highways
- Light / Heavy Rail
- Mass Transit
- Mining
- Support of Excavation
- Tunnels / Shafts

LIFE AT ATKINSON

The Atkinson family is truly just that; a family. They are committed to your personal and professional growth and will provide you with all the tools and assistance necessary for you to reach your goals. And there are not too many places that you can start your work day detonating 1,200 lbs of explosives 300 feet underground!”

Terek Green

Kennesaw State University '18 | Underground Division

“

Both managers I have worked for so far have done a great job of pushing me far past what I believed was the limit of my experience or capability and I have come out successful. Every employee I've come across, regardless of position, has made it clear that they are available anytime to give advice or offer support.”

LAUREN VOGELSANG

California Baptist University '17 | Southern California Division

I am constantly presented with opportunities to take on new challenges. At Atkinson, I'm encouraged to build on both my technical and leadership skills.”

TODD FREEMAN

Washington State University '16 | Northwest Division

BUILDING YOUR CAREER

The Atkinson Experience

The Atkinson Experience is knowing from your first day that you are a valued member of the team. It's having the opportunity to work with—and learn from—the best and brightest heavy civil construction professionals and to build some of the biggest, most sophisticated projects in the country. Atkinson is a self-perform general contractor where you will gain valuable hands-on experience and make a direct impact every day.

Our employees' success is our success. Working at Atkinson is more than a job; it's a career. We are invested in your future and will provide you with the mentorship, training, and industry experience you need to excel both personally and professionally. Build your legacy at Atkinson!

An opportunity to build your career.

Atkinson offers a variety of programs to ensure our employees continually learn and grow:

- Rotational opportunities in project development and project delivery roles
- Classes for employees in every field, and at every stage in their career through Atkinson Civil College and Clark Corporate University, our in-house learning academies, along with access to LinkedIn Learning
- Mentoring for recent college graduates
- Internal national conferences
- Continuing education tuition reimbursement of up to $15,000 per year
- Real experience and accountability early in your career

An opportunity to build relationships.

Teamwork is principal to our success. We share common goals, have complementary skills, and know that by working together—and supporting one another—we can accomplish anything. And while teamwork is a key to our success, it also makes Atkinson a great place to work.

Our employees are some of the hardest working individuals in the construction industry, but they also know how to have fun. We encourage activities that foster camaraderie and strengthen our team culture. Many of our employees take part in golf tournaments, enjoy having project team barbecues, compete in team fitness events, and participate in community outreach initiatives. These shared experiences build relationships and are an integral component of life at Atkinson.
