Geir Phillips - Project Manager

"The Lusardi Team has been nothing but welcoming and helpful since my first day. I've gotten tons of advice and tips that have helped me a lot throughout the summer. I am really grateful with the Lusardi Team for allowing me to continue my internship throughout the rest of the year."

Brandon Palma - Intern
California State University, East Bay

"Lusardi Construction is driven by the people of the company - many who have spent the majority of their careers helping build our reputation. It's a real testament to our culture because people enjoy working here! Lusardi has shown me all parts of being a mini general contractor."

Randy Cordova - Project Manager
California Polytechnic State University

"Coming into this internship, I had little knowledge about the industry due to my education being in business. One of the main things that I learned during my internship was problem solving quickly. I also learned how important it is to create relationships with contractors we are working with to create better communication throughout the project."

Austin Rieman - Intern
California State University, San Marcos
